MISSION PROBLEMS AND MISSION METHODS

WATKINS, LIMITED,

CHEMISTS AND AERATED WATER MANUFACTURERS,
66, QUEEN'S ROAD CENTRAL.TRANSPORTATION THROUGH TUBES.

The development of the coming century worthy of at least passing thought, says Cassier's Magazine, is the extent to which the pneumatic-tube principle will be employed to expedite transportation. Mr. Vauchain has directed attention to the long lines of loaded coal-cars on their way from the mines to the seaboard, and back again, empty, to the mines. If the weight of a car is 25 per cent. of the gross load, there is in this instance more than 50 per cent. non-paying freight. The writer in Cassier's comments on the subject as follows: It does not seem altogether unreasonable to think that just as the miles of tank-cars loaded with oil, which were seen in former years, have disappeared, and that commodity is now sent hundreds of miles through pipe lines, so may coal, grain, and ore be sent speeding through tubes to central depots for local distribution. In the matter of coal transportation, in fact, just such pipe-line conveyance was tried experimentally something like ten or twelve years ago by the late W. C. Andrews, of New York, the coal for that purpose being ground into powder, mixed with water in sufficiently large proportion, and carried through the pipes in semi-liquid form. At the delivery end of the pipe line there were to be settling chambers for the mixture, enabling the water to be drained off and the coal paste, if we may so term it, to be pressed into cakes and dried for consumption. The project, however, did not extend beyond a brief experimental career. In wooden pipes, on the other hand, it is a common thing to blow wool from one building to another through pipes by means of fans, and in potteries, too, clay paste is frequently carried from one point to another through pipes. There is, thus, a fairly good beginning for pipe-line engineering with solids.

CLARADE (a tonic) of Ladies and gentlemen. Miss Dore will now sing. "Only One More." "Savannah." "Thank Heaven for that." "Charm (again sung)." "Ladies and gentlemen, instead of singing 'Only One More,' Miss Dore will sing 'My Love and I'."

REFORMERS TO THE FRONT.

It is pleasant to note (says the N. C. Daily News) that, since the publication the other day of the Imperial decrees on reform measures, and especially ordering the establishment of schools and colleges of Western Learning throughout the Empire, together with abolition of Wenchang, the high provincial officials and prominent gentry in several of the provinces have been making overtures to leading Members of the Reform Party who have been hitherto keeping quiet and abstaining from politics, inviting them to take charge of various schools and colleges proposed to be established in the near future. Their Excellencies Viceroy Liu Kun-yi of Nanking and Governor Nien of Soochow were the first to begin the new movement amongst the high provincial authorities of the country, hence they have had the pick of the most able and intelligent amongst the advocates of Reform. Other Viceroys and Governors, according to letters received, are also beginning to start these colleges of Western Learning and invitations have been coming to Shanghai where most of the best class of Reformers have resided since 1898. Viceroy Chang Chih-tung, it is rumoured, however, cannot get rid of the memory of what certain foolish and reckless young men were alleged to have intended about twenty months ago at Hankow, and hence there is said to be some hesitation in following the example shown by his more enlightened brother Viceroys, etc. As a matter of fact, however, the enjoining of the Reform Party with revolutionary societies is absurd on the face of the evidence before the world of the uniform good behaviour of those whose desire for Reform is purely patriotic; that their native country may benefit by it. Because a few reckless young men with a smattering knowledge of some one or other foreign language, and who have some admiration for Western manners and customs, were weak enough to be tempted to join some revolutionary society in the Yangtze Valley, there is no palpable reason to call such men 'Reformers' and so brand with a stroke of the pen the whole body of earnest advocates for Reform, many of whom possess the highest literary grades of the Empire, and the great majority of whom are men of good family, substance, and education.

JOSH. Westlander, of Longwood, Ind., U.S.A., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatoid and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by all Dealers. Watson, Ltd., General Agents.
